

Naples, 28th March. '81.

My dear Watson

Your post card of 5th reached me here. I have looked up the "Athematha Chienensis". It is Compositae - but no fruit on specimen, - although Linnaeus describes fruit. Baertram's journey to N. Y. ^{with} to the Seneca Seneca Indian Council did not extend to Niagara or the Genesee River, i.e. in the account printed by Collins, which I have consulted. ^{Water??} But Baertram ^{did} ~~went~~ ^{visit} to Niagara, & he crossed the Genesee ^{River}. See if there is any account of this journey in the letters published by Darlington. I must ^{mean} be look for this at Kew, and make a note.

Send ^{memoranda} ~~answers~~ of anything you wish to be compared. Ever
A. Gray

P.S. The Hobbes, Mrs. Gray & I are having a good time. We go in a few days, back to Rome & so northward.

Boyle's Wedding Cards just received.
